THE PASSING OF A HERO.

That was a very pathetic moment when Gen. Wade Hampton took his final leave of the old veterans at Charleston. Many aged and silvery-headed soldiers wept as their loved leader passed from their sight, probably forever. Once young, handsome, dashing, gallant, a perfect type of southern chivalry, his lance shrank from no foe, and he smiled when death was near. There was probably not another officer or private in the whole army of the south who committed so many deeds of personal bravery, and he sprang from the humble position of a private to a major-generalcy. No braver man ever led men to victory.

Now he is old and broken in health and will probably never again assemble with his comrades in earthly reunion. Throughout his life he has remained true to the southern cause. And, in the evening, when the shadows are coming over the hills, may his soul be becalmed that the gentle charities and the glorious deeds of his well-spent life have ever endeared him to his countrymen and written his name high on the temple of fame.

The papers state that the child whom Hose brutally knocked across the room because it cried, has died and the wife and mother has lost her mind. In denouncing lynch law, let no one lose sight of the fact that Hose deserved all he got. The protest against lynch law must be for the good of the community. The brute deserved more punishment than could be meted out to him.—Raleigh News and Observer.

If some of the northern papers that howl so blantly about the "deep-seated race prejudice" of our people would, besides thinking so seriously about the lawless fury of the mobs, also bestow some careful thought upon the crimes of the devil incarnate who meet their just deserts at the rope's end or the burning stake, they would be furnished with some valuable data for their dissertations upon the "great evil of lynching in the south."

There is no doubt that if the truth were known, the sickness and desolation of our soldiers in the Philippines would challenge the serious thought of their friends at home. The press censor, established by the American government at Manila, knows his business. He will not paint any features of the picture except those that are flattering, and no information that would inform the American people of the real situation eludes his blue pencil.

The story of the First Nebraska regiment, published in our dispatches from the Philippines yesterday, is very pitiful. The poor boys, unused to the hardships of war, are exhausted by the long campaign. Their number is growing less every day, and they yearn for their peaceful homes in America. Such are the vicissitudes of war.

The election of Col. Jule Carr to the leadership of the North Carolina confederate veterans is a deserved honor. No one will take such an interest in the sweet and honored memories of the past as this excellent gentleman.

It has been ferreted out that Funston, of Kansas, is a native North Carolinian. The Old North State is getting the lion's share of the honors in this scrapping business.

FOR SUNDAY READING.

Praying to the Point—A Short Sermon by Rev. J. C. Troy.

Written for the Telegram.

A gentleman, intelligent and observant remarked to me a few days since that on the previous Sunday he had attended a Sunday School, and that the superintendent in opening the exercises prayed all around the world, but never one time referred to his own school, nor touched upon a point in the lesson. That prayer, of course, was not to the point. But if you take your Bibles and turn to Acts, 12:5, you may read of a prayer that was to the point.

"Peter the More was kept in prison; but prayer was made without ceasing of the church unto God for him." And what was the result? An angel of the Lord appeared in the prison, smote Peter on the side, then sleeping between a guard of soldiers, told him to arise up quickly; and this Peter proceeded at once to do. Note if you please that the part of the church engaged in this prayer had but one thing in mind—Peter. It was a specific request, intelligently and intelligibly made, so that it was no trouble for the Divine mind to understand what was wanted. But it is a bit remarkable that the people who were doing this specific praying at the house of Mary, the mother of John Mark were much surprised when told that the object of their prayers was at the door. "And when they had opened the door and saw him they were astonished." Not astonished perhaps that the prayer had been answered, but, that the answer had come so quickly. But the idea is, they were praying for one thing—not making jargon of their prayer—and that one thing they asked for was given. When efforts are made to secure executive clemency for a prisoner, and a petition is set before the governor, it is always couched in language that bears on but one point, asking relief for the prisoner, and stating the grounds for such petition, and usually concluding with the words, "and for this your petitioners will ever pray." The amount of nothing that frequently is expressed in what is called public prayer, is usually observed by the biggest part of the congregation; and it has often occurred to me that so much of this indiscriminate, rambling, erratic, unintelligible prayer, has been hurtful rather than of advantage to the cause of religion. If any part of the divine service is entitled to the consideration of decency and order it is the prayer service. I do not forget the incident in the life of Stonewall Jackson—his failure at first to make a public prayer. But he was an intelligent man and so learned to pray. What we object to is the frequent calling on of men to lead in prayer who do not ask any thing.

Not only should prayer be specific, to the point, but brief. The Lord's prayer is a model in this respect. "Brevity is the soul of wit," and means, have sense enough to not make long prayers. And as the Saviour teaches us not to give vain repetitions. The constant crying out: "Oh God, oh God, is a vain repetition, indeed; and could the man think for a moment, dishonor the Father, whom we should remember is always at hand, and never a mile, nor a foot from us; and therefore, the repetition and screaming in prayer to rise to a point of order. Suppose men would scream at their bankers, lawyers, merchants and doctors to the same extent they do to the Throne of Grace? There is strong ground for protest against much that is called prayer. Reform is needed in this branch of the divine service. The disciples who were not literary men asked the Saviour to teach them how to pray. This was specific and to the point. He answered the request at once, beginning the model for prayer, with the words: "Our Father." And the word Father occurred but one time. Elijah knew how to pray. Standing on Mount Carmel in that great contest with the prophets of Baal, after the god of the latter had failed to answer their will, vain and foolish cries and repetitions, he said: "Lord God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, let it be known this day that thou art God in Israel, and that I am Thy servant, and that I have done all these things at Thy word." And God answered the prayer of his servant. "The fire of the Lord fell, and consumed the burnt sacrifice, and the wood and the stones, and the dust, and licked up the water that was in the trench. And when all the people saw it, they fell on their faces; and they said, the Lord he is God; the Lord he is God." And it did not take Elijah two minutes to make the prayer that had an answer in manner and form as asked. The prophets of Baal cried unto their God all day, and received no answer.

Let us, brethren, remember that we are not heard for our much speaking. That the Pharisee made the long prayers, the poor publican the short petition: "God be merciful unto me a sinner," and he went down to his house, justified, pardoned, rather than the other, who in his day, must have been a man mighty in prayer. The fact is we need more of the publican's style. All of us like sheep have gone astray. And our shortcomings and shortcomings cannot be hid by long winded devotions, often without point or justification. If today you feel yourself a sinner, how sweet the promise that He will forgive our sins, and cleanse from all unrighteousness, if we have boldness to approach the throne of grace, penitently, as did the publican, asking pardon. How comforting the thought that He is so near us. That He never leaves nor forsakes. That into His ear, never heavy that it will not hear, the weakest of us may whisper our requests, with the assurance that if we let them be known unto God, He will give us peace to keep our hearts and minds in Christ Jesus. They need to be kept. The promise comes as repose to our storm-tossed ocean of life. "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee." Prayer is a precious privilege, but, let us not presume on this privilege to the extent of making us unduly boisterous in the presence of our heavenly Father. Let your prayers be brief and to the point, so teaches the Bible. J. C. Troy.

W. L. Stamey, of High Point, came down at noon to spend Sunday.

THE MASTODON FAKE.

Turned Out to be the Skull of a Whale—Curator Brimley Badly Fooled.

The alleged discovery of the bones of a "prehistoric mastodon" at the mouth of New river turns out to be a fake.

The humorous part of the incident is that the curator of the State Museum, Mr. Brimley, was trapped into going down to Onslow county by the publication of the story. Instead of finding the bones of a mastodon, Mr. Brimley found a part of the skull of a large whale. The curator returned from his wild goose chase yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Brimley says the skull measures eight feet across and weighs about 800 pounds. Continuing, he said: "I found the people somewhat excited over the 'find.' They really believed the bone to be that of a mastodon and some of them think so yet. It is undoubtedly the skull of a whale, which was probably fifty-five feet in length. The bone is not fossilized. The man who discovered it is fencing it in and building a shed over it when I arrived. He proposes to charge an admission fee to see it."

"It is a fact that, through some unknown cause, the land in this vicinity has been rapidly washing away for some time, or the sea is making alarming encroachments on the beach near and at the mouth of New river. At this place the skeleton was found. It no doubt belonged to a prehistoric age and went down with the primeval forest, as there is every indication of a dense forest that is submerged at half tide. The skeleton of the dinosaur, or whatever the animal has, is a most remarkable sight. It did not wash up, but was solidly imbedded in the soil and required the strength of six men to prize it up."—Raleigh Post.

Rheumatism Cured.

My wife has used Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism with great relief, and I can recommend it as a splendid liniment for rheumatism and other household use for which we have found it valuable.—W. J. Cuyler, Red Creek, N. Y.

Death of Roswell P. Flower.

Roswell P. Flower died last night at 10:30 at the E. sport Country Club, at Eastport, Long Island. Mr. Flower was taken ill early in the day, with a severe attack of acute indigestion. In the afternoon symptoms of heart failure supervened, and he grew steadily worse, until the time of his death.

Remarkable Rescue

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine would cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well; now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at C. E. Holton's drug store. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

J. B. Graham, T. A.

With Captain Richard P. Leary, the newly-appointed governor of Guama, the cruiser Yosemite sailed from New York for that Pacific island yesterday.

"A word to the wise is sufficient" and a word from the wise should be sufficient, but you ask, who are the wise? Those who know. The oft-repeated experience of trust-worthy persons may be taken for knowledge. Mr. W. M. Terry says Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other in the market. He has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for twelve years; has sold hundreds of bottles of this remedy and nearly all other cough medicines manufactured, which shows conclusively that Chamberlain's is the most satisfactory to the people, and is the best. For sale by C. E. Holton.

The American Library Association will to day finish its conference at Atlanta, Ga., and elect officers.

Robbed The Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides; no appetite; gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now well, and have gained my appetite. I well, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

I was reading an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy in the Worcester Enterprise recently, which leads me to write this. I can truthfully say I never used any remedy equal to it for colic and diarrhoea. I have never had to use more than one or two doses to cure the worst case with myself or children. —W. A. Stroud, Popocatepec City, Md. For sale by C. E. Holton.

The police chiefs will meet next year at Cincinnati.

THE OLD REBS

Gave a Rebel yell and carried Charleston by storm. They have the right of way on all occasions; and in fact they are entitled to it. Just so with Harry-Belk Brothers Co.

They have carried Greensboro by storm—captured the whole city and country without encountering the slightest obstacle. We did not raise a Rebel yell to accomplish what we have done, but simply turned loose our "Gatling gun" and shelled the woods. The same was loaded with panic goods. Railroad wrecks and the like brought them down at long range. To see the crowds flocking to our store you would think we had another Confederate here, but it is this Cuban warfare among prices liberates our bargain counters and, my, the way this way the masses are accepting the situation—freedom from the galling yoke of high prices and big profits is enough to stir the country from center to circumference. "Watch out!" Our byer has been in New York and Boston for some time closing out shoe manufacturers, clothing merchants, dry goods stocks, etc., at often less than the cost of making. Going north at this season gives us a decided advantage over others, for all manufacturers are anxious to clean up the stocks on hand before the fall season opens. Few goods piling in every day.

 Listen! Checks 2c, calico 7c, bleaching 4c, towels 2c, lawns 2c, ladies' patent sandals 68c, worth $1.50; ladies' and children's Oxfords and slippers 25c up. Never before had goods so cheap. All we ask is for you to see them. It is like picking up dollars. We have bargains to offer you all our store, so if dollars are worth anything to you, you can save them by looking through our stock of dry goods, notions, shoes, hats, gents' furnishings, etc., much easier than you can make them, no matter how easy they come.

So hide out, little ones, and give the people the right of way to

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

J. H. Merritt returned at noon from High Point.

Hon. Fab. H. Busbee, of Raleigh,
was in the city today.

Col. Carr's company passed through at noon returning to Durham from the confederate reunion at Charleston.

Mrs. S. J. Lambe, of Winston, passed through at noon en route to Chatham county for a visit to relatives.

Solicitor A. L. Brooks and Mrs.
Brooks, left at noon for Durham,
where Mr. Brooks will prosecute at court next week.

Forbis points out to our readers today the superior advantages in buying goods of an exclusive furniture dealer. See his new ad.

Regular services at Grace Methodist Protestant church tomorrow. The notice which appears on third page
was not changed from last Sunday.

Hudson-on-the-hill has a change of ad in today's paper, in which he names many delicacies of the season. The profusion of good things will "make your mouth water."

Mr. John Schenck, who returned to Charlotte last night, was taken quite ill on the train before he reached there.
His physician, who was summoned immediately on his arrival, said he was suffering from nervous strain and would be better today.

Messrs. Will P. Ragan and Wescott
Robertson, two of High Point's rising young attorneys, passed through at noon en route to Reidsville on business that is not supposed to be legal,
but which is not illegal. To be plain their friends suspect that it is purely a courting trip.

The lawn party given by the young ladies of West Market Street Methodist Church, at the home of Mrs. F.
S. Eldridge, last evening, was quite a success. Though the attendance was not very large, between $25 and $30 worth of refreshments were sold. A large number of young ladies from Greensboro Female college were in attendance the first part of the evening and it was a pleasant as well as a profitable affair.

A Flower Festival.

A flower festival will be given by the Junior Auxiliury of St. Barnabas Sunday school, under the supervision of Mesdames Fonda, Callum and Ellett, on the McLean lawn, Forbis street, next Tuesday afternoon and evening. From the enthusiasm of the "Juniors" and experience of their
"Directors" we may expect a beautiful scene, an enjoyable time, and the most delicious creams, cakes and berries.

No admission fee, plenty of saucers
of refreshments at half price for the little folks, room, welcome and refreshments for belles and beaux, young and old.

Come out and encourage the children in their work for charity and missions.
